

GOVERNOR SAYS BEST TO WAIT ON GLEN MATTER

Pinkham Considers Expenditures to Be Unwise While Investigations Are On

"If the people investigating Hillebrand Glen were willing to wait until January 1 they could get some reliable data on it instead of spending money on the proposition at the present time," is the terse comment made today by Governor Pinkham in regard to the signing yesterday by Auditor J. H. Fisher of $397.70 worth of warrants for engineering work on the project under the Oahu Loan Fund Commission.

"We have three rain gauges in Hillebrand and three in Luakaha, and by reading and comparing these we can find out what the place will produce in water," the governor added. "The flow at Hillebrand Glen is also being measured. It showed 170,000 gallons daily during June, 225,000 during July and 570,000 during August. By January 1 we can get some data that will be reliable."

As to the issuance of yesterday's warrant Governor Pinkham stated that he had not been conferred with in the matter. Some time ago the governor intimated that none of the territory's money would be spent for the survey under the committee of experts appointed by the Oahu Loan Fund Commission.

LONDON'S STORY WAKES INQUIRY AS TO HAWAII

Information was received in the Matsonia today of a novel scheme employed by the Cosmopolitan Magazine to advertise Hawaii. The welcome tidings came in the form of two postal cards to the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, bearing names of men who had inquired of the Cosmopolitan for information on the territory and to whom the Cosmopolitan asked that literature be sent.

The Cosmopolitan recently published an interesting story of Hawaii by Jack London which has attracted the thoughts of Americans all over the United States. For instance one of the Cosmopolitan's inquirers was E. H. Baker of Kellogg, Idaho, and another, T. M. Rickards of Balsam, North Carolina.

All such cards received here will be handed to the Promotion Committee and will be acted upon at once.

The card reads in full as follows: "Mr. Blank has written us requesting that we give information concerning accommodations in Hawaii. Will you please favor us by sending this inquirer copies of your advertising literature at once."

WILL MERE MAN BE ALLOWED TO EAT AT Y. W. C. A.

Members of Association Will Hold Election on Subject Tomorrow at Noon

"To eat or not to eat; that is the question." Whether mere man shall be allowed to partake of the gastronomical exercises at the Y. W. C. A. or whether he will be allowed to hie himself forth to a lunch counter and grab some corn beef an', will be decided on the morrow.

This question is one that is robbing the recent Maine election of its place in the sun. It has taken away the glamor from the Regatta, and until tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock the main topic of discussion at the Y. W. C. A. will be whether man will be allowed to enter the cafeteria at lunch time.

Throughout the country men have been invited to take lunch at the associations, provided they were accompanied by a member of the association. This has been the rule at the local Y. W. C. A., but one noon one of the ladies decided that the men could be easily dispensed with, and as a result the members of the association will hold an election on Wednesday from 11:30 to 1:30 to decide whether or not the men will be allowed to enter the cafeteria.

The polls will open at 11:30 o'clock and will not close until 1:30, giving all the members of the association a chance to cast their ballots. The men who will attend the lunch will not be allowed to vote on this subject. The pros and antis will have judges of election at the polls in order to prevent stuffing the ballot boxes.

The victory in Maine for the Republicans will not be a drop in the bucket to the victory for the pros tomorrow," said one of the young ladies of the association, who believes in men, not only in the drawing room but in cafeterias as well. "We have 24 precinct committee men working hard, and reports from outlying districts give us assurance that we will win out in the battle of ballots."

"Men invite the young ladies to take lunch in other places, and we believe that the Y. W. C. A. should have the benefit of this. It is done in other associations, and has become a popular idea. In the 17th precinct a straw vote was taken and out of 21 voting 17 favored retaining the men. We expect a heavy vote from precincts 7, 9, 13 and 17."

"Why, one man smoked," said one of the antis this morning. "A tourist used to come here with his wife every day for a month, and he got to making himself at home, and did not miss a single day. One day at lunch he finished his meal and then pulled out a long Pittsburg stogie and began to smoke. I know he forgot he was in the Y. W. C. A., but it wasn't right. Some other man might forget, and then we would have to place a sign, 'No smoking.' That wouldn't be a nice idea. I am opposed to it."

The committee on both sides are working hard, and when the polls are opened tomorrow it is expected that a banner crowd will be in attendance. Men will gather at the cafeteria tomorrow to do a little lobbying and the pros have already secured a number of votes on the strength of losing business for the cafeteria. The antis are not confident of victory at present, and late reports from both camps indicate that the pros will carry 18 out of 20 precincts, with two doubtful.
